MOLINE HIGH SCHOOL MOLINE, ILLINOIS

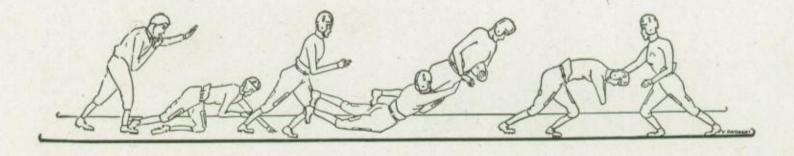

Volume Eighteen_

PUBLISHED BY THE CLASS OF 1930

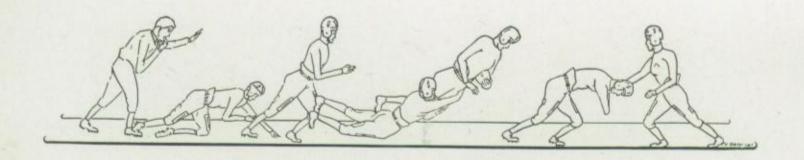

DEDICATION

This "M" of 1930 is dedicated to school sports, to athletic activities of the school which encourage school spirit, provide healthy recreation, and which make agressive, hardy, resourceful men of the immature boys who enter the portals of our school.

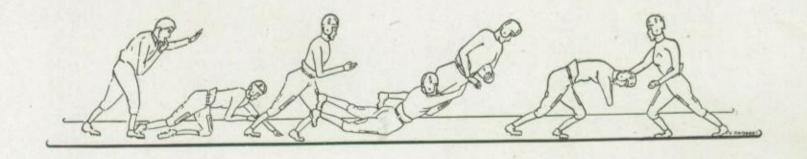

FOREWORD

Every year the Editor of the annual has practically the same material with which to build the book—classes, faculty, organizations, etc., and the problem each year is to arrange this material in such a way that it will create a new and attractive impression. We have tried this year to give you a picture of Moline high school life in a manner that will hold your interest not only now, but in the future when you look back on your four years of work and play.

Although classes always favor a color of their own And in honor of fair flowers to a certain bloom bow down, Yet will ne'er a flower fragrant, nor color howe'er bright, Win the love all classes offer to the old Maroon and White.

Eight

Through the four long years of striving 'midst scenes we know the best, As we bend our wills to forging the key to true success—Or we win athletic victories with honor and delight, Still we work for Alma Mater and the old Maroon and White.

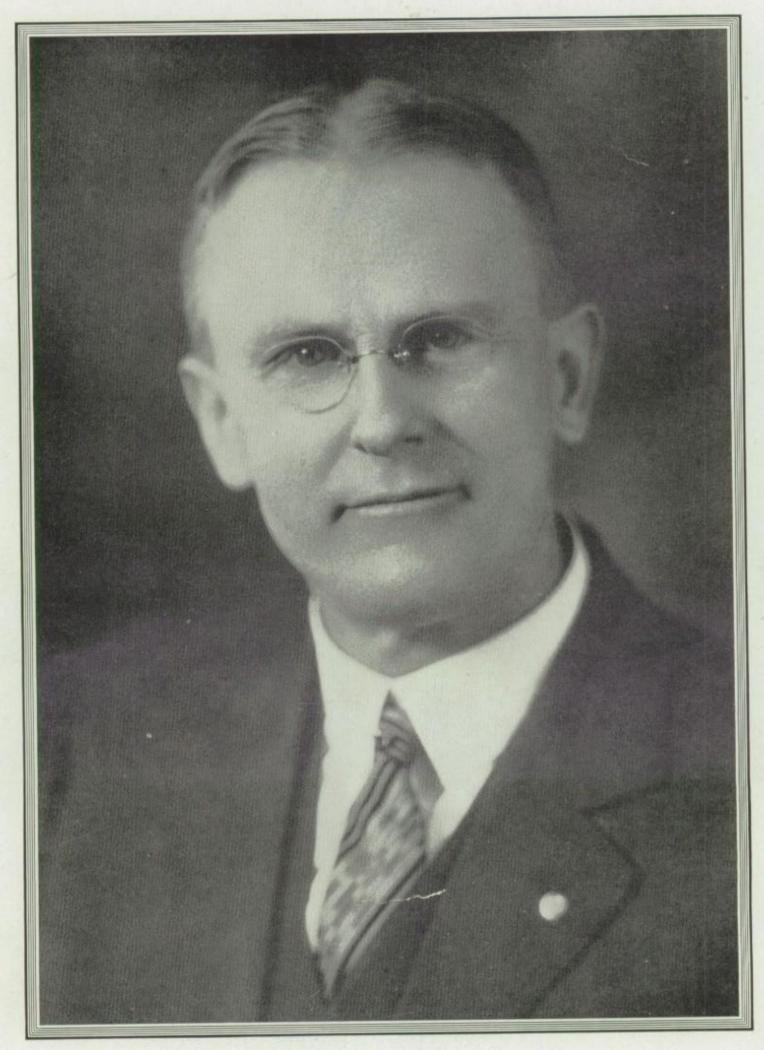

If, in life's great field of battle, we share in deeds of fame, Or if by chance misfortune strikes low our cherished aim, We will turn in joy or sadness and in fond Fancy's flight, Recall those days of gladness 'neath the old Maroon and White.

FACULTY

E. P. NUTTING, Principal

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF SERVICE

Twenty-five years as principal of Moline High School! That is "E. P.'s" record. Twenty-five classes have passed in review before him. Twenty-five years have passed which we hope have not been without their compensations despite the hard work which they have entailed. Twenty-five years, watching the educational progress of our community. For there has been progress—almost unbelievable progress.

When Mr. Nutting first came here in 1905, the building we know as the Central Grammar was the High School. The enrollment was 385; the teaching staff numbered 16. Classes ran from nine until twelve in the morning and from one-thirty until three in the afternoon; everyone had dinner at the same time. There was no cafeteria—the students who carried their luncheon devoured it in the seclusion of the classroom. Dancing at school was "taboo" and there was only one party a year—the Junior-Senior Prom—which was held in one of the down-town lodges. Plays were given in one of the theaters; rehearsals were impossible since it cost from $25.00 to $50.00 to rent the show house. There were no office clerks; only a librarian who took care of the attendance records. Mr. Nutting had charge of locker keys, absences, admit slips, and, in addition to this, taught several classes, too!

Now he is in a "new" building that has become so crowded as to necessitate the construction of a Junior High. The faculty has grown from 16 to 55 and only two of the 16 are still here—Miss Warner and Miss Melin. Classes are held from eight to three continuously and pupils eat during one of three lunch periods. This year the cafeteria took care of between 700 and 800 patrons a day. Each class has four parties a year in the school gym at which dancing is the main attraction. From four to six dramatic productions are given every year in our own auditorium. There are two office clerks who take care of practically all of the routine work, thus allowing Mr. Nutting to devote his time to handling of the many duties which are contingent to the managing of a good-sized school.

Twenty-five years! But after all, it is not so long; it is just a good beginning—fine practice for the work he has yet to do. And on his silver anniversary as principal of our High School, we wish him a long future and all the joy and happiness to which he is entitled.

ALUMNI

Joseph R. Rosborough

To the 1930 class:

I feel sure that the 1930 "M" will always stand as one of the most successful enterprises of Moline High School, and here's best wishes for every member of the '30 class.

Howie Blue

The one thing I hope you prospective graduates are doing is taking full advantage of the years you are spending in school. The average student feels that he has the world by the tail. But things soon change after one graduates and finds out how little he really has learned.

I wish you all the best of success in school as well as in later years.

John Hammer

Greetings, friends! I left Moline the day after I graduated to go to work in Harvard, Illinois, and I'll not return to stay until I'm broke, dead, or a millionaire.

Carl Swanson

Well, I'm going to Augie now and like it fine. I thought high school was hard but my mind has been changed. So if you have a chance to attend college, don't pass it up.

Dorothea Lohmann

Do I miss Moline High? And how! Here's greetings to the Faculty and good luck to the Class of 1930.

Irene McCoy

I am working at the Modern Woodmen of America, and as much as I like my work I truly miss my "Alma Mammy." I wish success to each member of the 1930 class.

Lucille F. Lundquist

I wish you and your helpers all possible success for a bigger and better "M", though pardon me for saying it will be hard to beat the 1929 "M". Ha! I do wish everyone at school success, and I want you all to know I take interest in the happenings of Moline High School, although I am no longer actively a member. Best regards.

Peter De Vos

School life is all right while one is in school—but, oh, for the life of an alumnus! Here's hoping the '30 "M" is as big a success as the '29 "M" was.

Luverne O. Motzer

For the first couple of months after leaving school I was just simply lost. As a member of the "29" class I will always remember the good times I had at Old Moline High.

Ralph Lourie, Jr.

I am attending Mercersburg Academy at Mercersburg, Pennsylvania, and enjoy it very much. I wish you much success and good luck with your annual.

Hazelbelle Bryan

Hello, friends. It seems just yesterday that I was occupying a seat in M. H. S. I can hardly say whether I am sorry that I am out of high or not. I find life so new and interesting here in the East and time flies so fast that I just haven't time to think about it. I am attending College here in Newark part time and working part time. I hope to be an Aviatrix "little by little."

Mauritz Ringquist and Adolph Wellander

Days may come, and days may go But we dream on forever, Of drifting back to Moline High Where many of our treasures lie.

But amid the storm of long assignments, Of sorrow and of fear, Of our austere examinations We are glad that we are here.

Agreed: "Morie" Ringquist, Adolph Wellander.
University of Illinois.

Laura Ryan and Sandy Batchelor

WANTED—Duplicates of the four years of fun we had in Moline High. Please notify Laura Ryan and Sandy Batchelor, care of Moline Daily Dispatch.

Herbert A. Larson

I am employed at the Deere Harvester, but I find that the only similarity between work and school is that I am often late to work.

Lester R. Stone

All I can say is that there is as much difference between life at the University and life at High School as there is between night and day. Some people might paint a pretty picture of college life, a la fur coat, pipe, pennants, uke, etc.; but you'll probably find it as I have, that is, a stack of books to ponder over. After all, the greater percentage of the students are down here to get an education; you would soon see that, especially around examination time!

Gerald Hudson

A farmer now am I; tho' I would rather be learning more of something else, for instance—chemistry.

Fred Graffund

Give Grinnell College a "break" when you graduate from good old Moline High. It's a real school.

Richard M. Phelps

Hi Ho, everybody! At present I'm working in an architect's office learning what I can of architecture before entering the University of Illinois, School of Architecture, in September, 1930.

Dorothy West

Do I miss Moline High? Yes, I surely do, and at this time I want to say "Hello" to the members of the faculty and the class of '30, and I want you to know I wish you all success and happiness.

Lillian Carlson

I wish all you 30's good luck in the future whether you attend college or work.

Allan Rose

When I left school I took to the "higher" things in life. I got a job at the Mono Aircraft Corporation helping design airplanes. But I left the higher part of life and went to the cleaner part of it. I am now in the Engineering Department at the Troy Laundry and Machine Company in East Moline helping design laundry machinery.

Ruth Schnathorst

I am now attending Augie and although I like it very much I still miss dear old M. H. S., its students, teachers, and activities. Here's every good wish for your future happiness and success.

Velma Young and Ruth Reesing

("Precious" and "Skulltrouble")

We, Us & Co., are employed by the Modern Woodmen of America, and so far have succeeded in keeping that ancient and honorable institution together. It is still in good working order. Seriously, though, even if we do like our jobs, we miss the old "Alma Mammy" and all that went with it.

Mrs. Henry Claussen (Julia Haskell)

Hello, everybody! Why, it has been only a year since I graduated from Moline High in the class of '29 and yet it seems a century. Many things can happen within a year's time and among the things that happened to me is that I'm working in an advertising office, secretary to an advertising manager. Strange to say, I have been more of a success in the business world than I was in school. My work is interesting and I love it.

I nearly forgot to mention the fact that I am also married and have a home that I am mighty proud of.

Harold Thorngren

Best wishes for success to the graduating class of 1930.

Kenneth Foster

All my time, at present, is being employed in fruitlessly trying to find some of those so-called "golden opportunities" that ceased to exist about the time I left school. I'd come back and sleep in classes with the rest of you, but, not knowing my own mind, I probably wouldn't be satisfied anyway, so I'll remain out.

Alice Anderson

Since graduation I have been working at the K. I. Willis Corporation, Moline, and like my work very much. I certainly did miss Moline High, but realizing that I could not go to high school forever, I decided I had better get down to business, although I will never forget the days I spent there.

Corrine Johnson

Since I graduated in June I have been attending Bradley Polytechnic Institute, at Peoria, Illinois, where I intend to specialize in Domestic Science. I am always glad to hear from Moline High School and ready and willing to back it in all of its enterprises.

Bertha Schultz

I have not much news, only that I am studying as usual, but I do want to wish the members of the 1930 class lots of luck.

Carolyn S. Bergstedt

Hello, M. H. S.

I'm taking a college course at Augustana and studying music in the conservatory; both keep me very busy. "Augie" is all right, but I haven't forgotten the good old days which I spent with you.

Marjorie Ed

I am attending Augustana College and like it very much, but look back often to the four happy and well-spent years at Moline High. Best wishes and much success to the graduating class.

Mary Jane Lynch

Hello, Thirties! Do I miss high school, the students, the faculty, all the activities, the good times? I'll say I do. I'm at the Western Illinois State Teachers College, and I like it here ever so much. It's a great life, but I can't forget M. H. S.

Yours for bigger and better annuals.

Burch Bredt

I am attending the Curtiss Flying School now, and I wish I were back in M. H. S. again, but "those days are gone forever."

"Bee" Baker

I hope every member of the 1930 class will have a happy, interesting, and successful life.

Anna Bengston and Helen Rapter

Hello '29's and '30's too, Miss school? Not the lessons, But the students we do.

At Strombeck-Becker We put in our time, The people are nice, And we like our work fine.

Vivian Stromberg

I am working as a telephone operator for a year before I enter college—don't ask me why I became one—I suppose it is because I didn't know anything about it. However, I don't regret it.

Frannie J. Lindburg

Here I am up here in dear old Rockford, going to a woman's College. It's really not bad—in fact, I like it very much, but I still have a soft spot in my heart for M. H. S. and the good old days that we 29's knew there—once. Any time any of you are in Rockford, drop around to the "institution," and we'll converse and I'll make you known to some of the "inmates."

Lucille Wahlstrand

I am working at the Modern Woodmen office in Rock Island, and like my work very much, altho one never appreciates school life until he is thru.

Bob Sellers

I surely do miss school and the associations, but if we are to progress, we cannot always stay in school. I am planning to enter, if possible, "Illinois" this Fall.

Of course while in high school, we felt it was a sort of "grind" with some one pushing you all the time, but when you enter the "work world," you find it is much the same. One must push along in order to make any advancement.

Evangel Corelis

I'm wishing you the best of success for your 1930 "M". I am eagerly waiting to see it, for if you have as many brothers as I have and there is something to be sold, you are not very likely to forget it.

Jim Kirk

I wish the '30 class and the "M" lots of success.

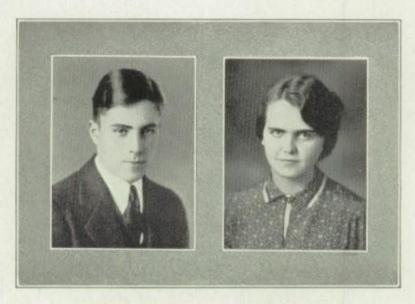

(Editor's note: Please appreciate this note, tho it is short—it took exactly seven months, two weeks, five days, and thirteen hours to extract it from Jim's unwilling pen.)

ORGANIZATIONS

DARLING

ALSTERLUND

LITERARY ASSOCIATION

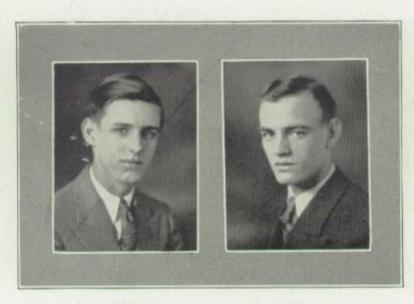

OFFICERS

Stephen Darling	 President
Miss Cockrell	 Adviser

The Literary Association is the second largest organization in Moline High School. The membership of the association consists of those who have purchased Literary season tickets. This ticket offers the Line O' Type, two "Literary Hops," the Declamation and Extempore contests, and the Debates. The Literary Association aids all literary activities in the school and it is largely through this assistance that extra editions of the Line O' Type could be issued during the District Basketball Tournament at the Field House. This year the Association also acted as host in the Big Nine Boys' Declamation contest and a dance was given afterwards. The literary achievements for this year have been outstanding and the association should be congratulated for its accomplishments.

Of the many organizations in Moline High School the Athletic Association ranks first both in importance and in membership. Every student or faculty member who purchases either a basketball or football ticket is a member of this association. The membership at present is approximately 1200. The Athletic Association sponsors all athletic activities during the year, including the two major sports, football and basketball, track meets, golf, and the class basketball and tennis tournaments. The main feature of the Association this year was its acting as host to the District Boys' Basketball Tournament which was held at our Field House. This event proved to be unusually successful and it is with pride that the students of Moline High School view this year's success of the athletic Association under the capable management of Mr. Holmgren.

This year under the able supervision of Miss McElroy a Girls' Athletic Association was inaugurated. This organization is open to all the girls of the high school and sponsors inter-class competition in basket ball, volley ball, captain ball, and tennis. Besides encouraging these sports, provision is also made for a "point" system by which bars and letters may be won by girls. Points are awarded to girls who have hiked, "gone in training," or taken part in any of the sports sponsored by the Club. A small pin is awarded for a certain total of points, to which may be added additional bars for the winning of further points. The final goal is an "M" which is awarded when the required number of bars have been won.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club consists of all girls taking the Home Economics course and at present has an enrollment of one hundred girls. The club was originally organized merely as a social organization but educational purposes have been added. Meetings are held the second Wednesday in each month in the Manual Arts Building. The meetings this year were unusually interesting. The girls' masterpiece was the giving of a Japanese Tea. The girls cleverly decorated the rooms with Japanese articles and an interesting talk about the people living in Japan was given by Mr. Wilson P. Hunt. At another meeting the girls took a trip to the Peoples Power Company and heard an interesting speech on the uses of gas. The club ended the year with a picnic at Riverside Park. Much credit for the success of the organization should be given to the teachers and the girls who put forth so much effort to make the meetings this year interesting and worth while.

The After Dinner Club is organized each year by the girls of the senior class for the purpose of promoting sociability and a more friendly feeling among themselves. Monthly meetings are held which take the form of a program in the auditorium, a dinner in the cafeteria, followed by a business meeting and a speaker. After the talk the rest of the evening is spent in sociability, usually in the gymnasium. The success of the club was climaxed with the play "Daddy Long Legs," which was coached by Miss Barbara Garst. This production proved to be one of the best dramatizations of the year. Much credit for the interesting programs should be given to the advisers, Miss Grant and Miss Garst, and the chairmen of the various months' meetings, who were: Betty Alsterlund, Helen Lundell, Lila Ross, Ruth Sklovsky, Helen Abrahamson, Mary Lagerblade, Marion Crawford, and Helen Thorngren.

The Fellowship Club, which is one of the oldest organizations in the school, endeavors to promote the friendship and the culture which comes from contact with one's fellows. Any boy of the senior class is eligible to membership. Dinner meetings are held once each month in the high school cafeteria where business is discussed and a social time enjoyed. An interesting speaker from the community is provided for each occasion. Every year this organization features a minstrel show. The boys this year showed unusual talent under the coaching of Mr. Phil Lioen, and the minstrel was pronounced the most entertaining and successful one ever staged in the Moline High School Auditorium. Mr. Ekblad deserves much credit for directing the boys through a year of success.

The Junior Hi-Y Club works in conjunction with the Senior Hi-Y and is composed of Sophomore and Freshmen boys. The principal aim of the club is to maintain upright character and support the Christian faith. Meetings are held once each week for Bible study. The boys also engage in many outside activities such as basketball and swimming. The privilege of bowling was granted to the Hi-Y clubs for the first time this year. Two interesting features added to the program of this year were the Father and Son Banquet and the overnight hike to Camp Hauberg. The members of the Junior Hi-Y Club were also eligible to attend the Tri-City banquets which were held with the Hi-Y clubs of Rock Island and Davenport. The Junior Hi-Y club is a very enthusiastic organization and with its rapid progress there is hope for a brilliant future.

The Senior Hi-Y Club operates with the aid of the Y. M. C. A. and is designed to support clean speech, clean scholarship, clean living and clean sportsmanship. The membership of the club is limited to twenty-five Juniors and Seniors. Weekly meetings are held at which time the programs are varied with movies and swims in the "Y" pool. Two meetings in each month are supper meetings and discussions are led by prominent business men. Three Tri-City banquets were held in conjunction with the Rock Island and Davenport clubs. This year the boys took over the refreshment concession at every event in the field house. This was a large task but the boys made their efforts successful and the year 1930 proved a jubil-ant one for the Senior Hi-Y Club.

Its purpose is to promote fellowship among the girls and to build high principles of character. Interest in the club has grown, as is shown by the increased membership. The girls have given several very interesting and successful novelty parties. They have also taken up several sports including archery and hiking. The girls have made a great success of their organization by having many interesting meetings and parties, including a colonial tea. They also formed a toy orchestra which made several appearances before the public. ADVANCED GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Advanced Girls' Glee Club is for those girls who have had advanced vocal training and who have more mature voices. The girls made several very creditable performances this year, among them being a program presented in Roll Call, an appearance before the Woman's Club, and at the Commencement exercises. Miss Dunlap, the director of the glee clubs, was absent for some time because of illness, but the work was very ably carried on by Mrs. Lillian Stevenson.

INTERMEDIATE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Due to the large number of girls who wish to take glee work, the Intermediate Glee Club was formed in the fall of 1925. This club is for those girls who are not quite ready for the work in the advanced class. The department was originally organized to provide careful vocal study for those students desiring it and this group has added materially to the accomplishment of that purpose.

BEGINNING GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

It is to the Beginning Girls' Glee Club that girls just beginning glee work are assigned. In this club the girls are taught the fundamentals of chorus work and also gain preliminary experience. The large membership of the department shows the interest the students have in musical training. This club has added much to the appreciation for music in the school. The constantly increasing size of the club furnishes a splendid outlook for the success of glee work next year.

THE BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The boys of Moline High School also have an opportunity for vocal training in chorus work. The interest taken by them is shown by the large number availing themselves of this opportunity. Excellent work has been done by the boys this year although they have made no public appearances. The Boys' club, like the girls', is under the able direction of Miss Ina Dunlap to whom much credit it due for the success of the department.

ORCHESTRA

The Moline High School orchestra is a source of great pride and satisfaction to our school. Under the able direction of Mr. Barnett, the orchestra has done some very interesting and creditable work this year. The orchestra played at several of the high school entertainments and at the class day and commencement exercises.

BAND

Inspiring the followers of our teams with peppy music at all times, the band has been a faithful and helpful aid in carrying on the true spirit of Moline High School. The band appears at all football and basketball games and at some pep meetings. The boys have given many excellent performances this year. The splendid work of the band as well as the orchestra is due to the able direction of Mr. Barnett, the leader.

Rear Row—C. O. Johnson, Winkler, McGaughey, Wynes, Bufe, Fryxell, Baker. Front Row—Miller, Rimkewich, Rodgers, Johnston, Boquist, Bimson, Padeski, King.

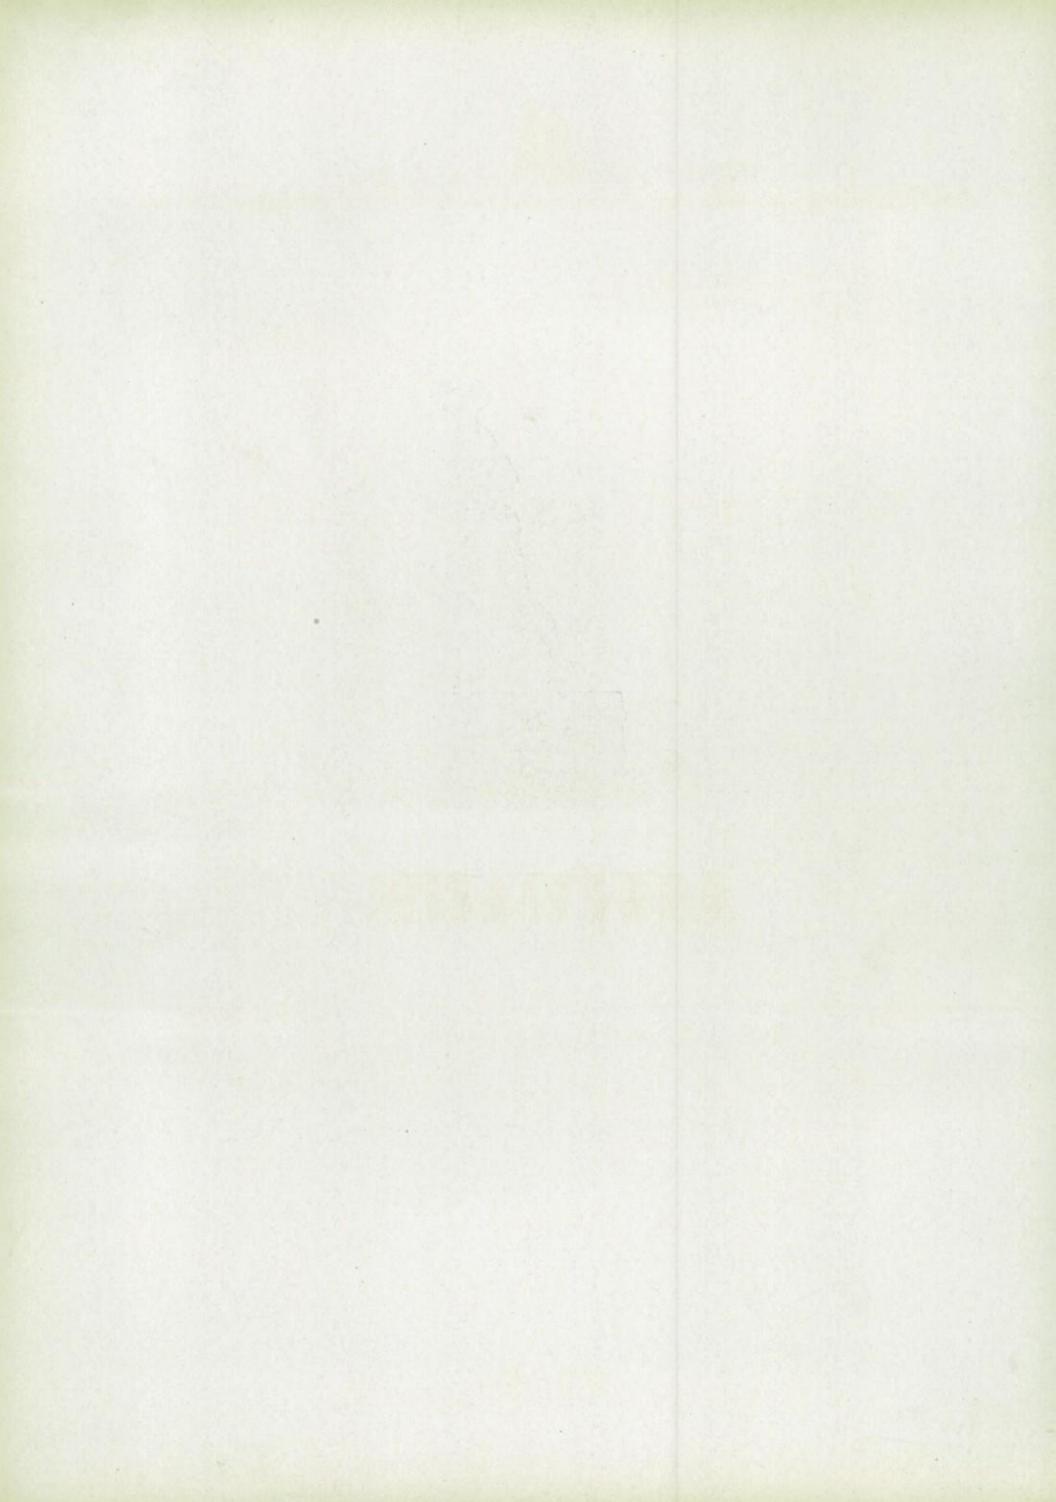

VISUAL EDUCATION BUREAU

Our Visual Education work has developed to such an extent that it is now rated highly as a leader in its class in the United States. It is of great value to a student to be able to see in actual movement something which is difficult to understand in print. Thus the bureau shows a full program of films in all departments of the school work. The credit for the success of the bureau goes to Mr. Lain and the group of students who donate their study periods and spare time for showing films.

GIRLS' DECLAMATION

Each year a team of six girls is chosen at a local contest to represent Moline in the triangular contest. The first place winner in this contest represents us in the Big Nine. This year first place was taken by Mary Louise Long, second by Rosalyn Magnuson, and third by Jane Hvitfeldt. The members of the team and their selections were:

This team, coached by Dolph Lain, had a very successful season. Our representative in the Big Nine contest, Mary Louise Long, rated second place, and in the triangular contest with Rock Island and East Moline we won first.

The Big Nine is a group of Illinois high schools which holds contests of various scholastic types among the members, namely: Moline, East Moline, Rock Island, Canton, Galesburg, Geneseo, Monmouth, Kewanee, and Princeton. Moline was host to the Big Nine at the final contest in boys' declamation, and our representative, Stephen Darling, won third place in this contest.

In the local contest, first place was won by Stephen Darling, second by Keene Crockett, and third by Louis Plambeck. This team which was coached by Miss Barbara Garst, won triangular contest with Rock Island and East Moline. The members of the team chosen to compete in the triangular contest were:

Stephen Darling"The Valiant"
Keene Crockett"Eyes of the Blind"
Louis Plambeck"Cut and Dried"
John Thomson Yo Ho Ho and a Bottle"
Lloyd Schwiebert"Courtship of Shadrick Peters"
Don Fryxell "Willie's First Contest"

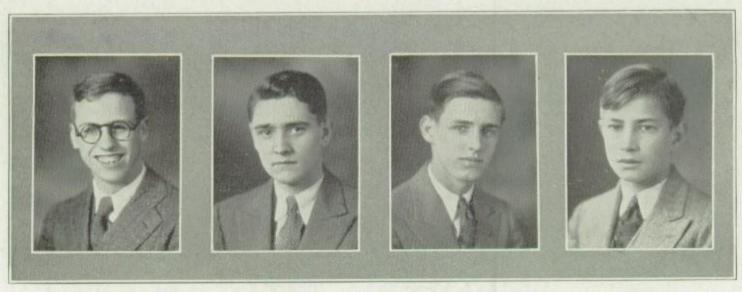

DEBATE

The Big Nine proposition for debate this year was: "Resolved: That the United States should cease to protect by force of arms private capital invested in foreign lands except after a formal declaration of war." The members of the affirmative team were Stephen Darling, captain, Lyle Olson, Lloyd Schwiebert, and Helen Lundell. The personnel of the negative team was: Bill Bennett, captain, John Kirby, Bob Marsell, and Chester O. Johnson. Miss Barbara Garst coached the teams.

This was the second year that the four member team system was used. By this system two of the four members on a team take turns at debating, and each of the four members wins an "M." Formerly, one of the members, the alternate, spoke only in the event that one of the regular members was unable to debate, and the alternate did not receive an "M" unless he had debated.

Our teams lost in their practice debates with Davenport, but placed second to Rock Island in this triangle of the Big Nine series. This entitled them to compete in a newly established Big Nine contest for determining four and fifth places. By defeating Kewanee and Monmouth, Moline won fourth in the Big Nine final ranking.

EXTEMPORE

At the local extemporaneous speaking contest on April 16 only nine students contested, of whom none were veterans of last year's team. Stephen Darling received first place, Lloyd Schwiebert rated second, and Mary Ellen Love, third. The other three who won places on the team were Bill Bennett, Dorothea Van Wonterghem, and Lucien White.

Moline was the host in the dual contest with Rock Island and won by two points. A member of the Rock Island team won first place, but Stephen Darling and Lloyd Schwiebert took second and third places respectively. The Big Nine contest, on April 25, was held at Monmouth, where Stephen Darling, as Moline's representative, received second place, first place going to Monmouth and third to Rock Island.

EDITOR'S NOTE

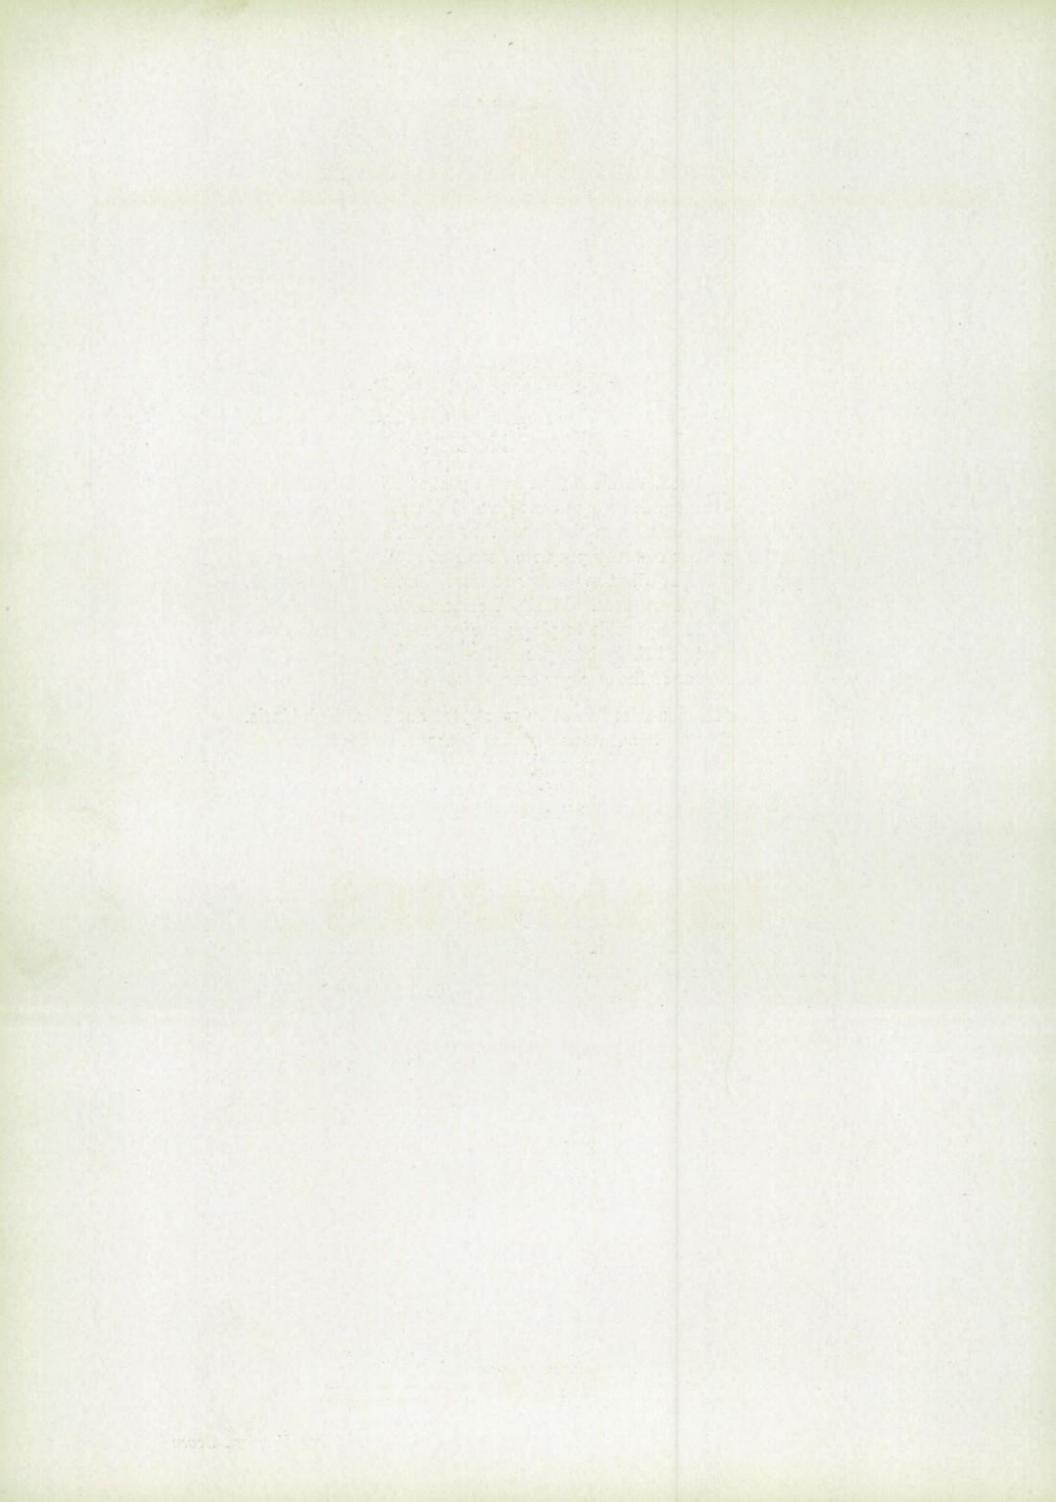

When my classmates elected me to the post of editor, I was determined to give them something which would please them, something to show my appreciation of the honor they had shown me. At first I got the opinions of many people on some of my ideas. I wanted to please, not myself, but my fellow seniors. But opinions differed. Some liked this, some that. Finally I came to the wise conclusion that it would be impossible to please everyone. So I tried to consider impartially all the points, pro and con, brought before me and to decide in favor of the stronger case.

Another thing is this: When I first started out I had high ideals. I could readily point out flaws in other books and failed to understand why they had been permitted to pass. But when the work begins to pile up in mounds, and time presses, and you haven't the tools to work with, then a lot has to be abandoned.

But we have all done our best, and I want to thank the staff (whose work is all too little appreciated) for their fine work and cooperation. Every one has given all he had, and you know, as Benny Oosterbaan said, you "have to give" if you want results. We have tried to make those "results" measure up to the high standards of Moline High School Annuals.

THE SENIOR PLAY

"Laff That Off"

On April third the Senior Class presented Don Mullally's comedy, "Laff That Off." It was decidedly the finest production the Seniors have given in recent years. The humorous dialogue and actions of the players kept the audience in continual laughter, and the few serious moments were done with unusual dramatic ability.

THE SENIOR PLAY

Synopsis

Remorse, the genial wise-cracker, Arthur Lindau, and Leo Mitchell, his friends, live together in bachelor quarters in the boarding house of Mrs. Connelly and her amusing and drink-loving husband. One night their peace is disturbed when Leo brings home a beautiful and charming young lady, Peggy Byrant. She has been in the theatrical profession, but at this time has no position and is penniless. The young men, especially Leo, sympathize with her and give her a room in their apartment. She is their "big sister" and keeps their rooms in fine order. Art and Remorse receive a call to enter the war, Leo being left out because of a weak heart. One night, just before they depart for France, Peggy leaves the boys. With her go their savings which they have kept in a coffee can. Christmas Eve, 1918, after the war, the boys are reunited in their apartment when, to their great surprise, Peggy returns. She wears luxurious clothes, having made a success in Hollywood. She apologizes for her apparent stealing of their money, but says it was her big chance and she had to take it. She returns the money and gives them Christmas presents besides. At last Peggy and Leo realize they are in love; Art and little Emmy, formerly Mrs. Connelly's scrub girl but now educated, announce their engagement too. Remorse is the only one of the boys without a "girl friend," but, as a fitting climax to the play, he reads from a letter that "she's a boy," and reveals his marriage to a French girl "over there." "Ha, Ha," cries he, "Laff that off!"

THE JUNIOR PLAY

"Father Walks Out"

Synopsis

The whole play involves the social and financial troubles of the Gaites family. Mary Gaites, the mother, is trying to break her attractive and frivolous daughter into society. She is backed by a scheming parvenu, Mrs. Updergraft, and the latter's assistant, Freddy Lennox. Their object is to get Flicky introduced to society through Mrs. Hamilton Sigurd, a prominent society woman.

Frank Gaites, a brother of Flicky, returns after an absence of five years and realizes the deplorable state of affairs in his family. His sympathy is for his father, who is being ruined by the extravagance of wife and daughter. Frank convinces his father that the only resort is to move to the country and live in his cottage, which he inherited from his aunt. Regardless of the protests of Mary and Flicky, the Gaites do as Frank wishes.

Pat O'Malley is the son of Mrs. Sigurd by a former marriage, but this is unknown to all the Gaites except Frank. Frank and Pat, together with Frank's artist friend, Betty Kilgour, plan to save Mr. Gaites from bankruptcy, to reform Flicky and her mother, and to expel Mrs. Updergraft and Freddy. Unexpected complications come up, but it all ends satisfactorily. Mary and Flicky are reformed, and the latter falls in love with Pat, even though he seems only a "poor Irishman." The grand finale is Pat's announcement that he is the son of Mrs. Hamilton Sigurd and heir to millions.

MESCALANZA

Friday, May 31st, 1929, the Literary Association attempted something new by giving the Mescalanza. As the name suggests, this was a variety show and consisted of may clever acts, all home talent. For modern dancing, jazz singing, and hilarious joking nothing but the Fellowship Minstrel Show could approach Mescalanza. The Literary Association scored a great success and deserves much credit for this addition to Moline High School drama.

DIDO AND AENEAS

The Latin Department staged the biggest success of its career when Dido and Aeneas was presented on February 28th. It was one of the most dramatic productions ever given at High School. The whole cast of ninety-eight did good work.

Latin students all over the world are celebrating the two thousandth anniversary of the birth of Virgil, the Roman poet, and author of the Aeneid, from which is taken this story of Dido and Aeneas. The Aeneid is the tale of the wanderings of Aeneas, a Trojan prince, after the destruction of Troy by the Greeks. In his travels he meets the glamorous Dido, queen of Carthage. Regardless of her passion for him, he leaves her to found a city in Italy by order of the gods. Dido, maddened by her passionate love for Aeneas, kills herself, cursing him.

The 1929-30 dramatic season was closed with Daddy Long Legs, a highly entertaining comedy, presented by the senior girls. It was a difficult play to give because of the numerous male characters, but the girls took their parts with unusual ability. Daddy Long Legs was a fitting climax for a brilliant dramatic year.

DADDY LONG LEGS

The story opens on trustees' day at the John Grier Home for orphans. Judy, a brilliant and wilful girl of eighteen, is reprimanded for the misbehavior of the younger orphans in her charge. She is angered by the unfair accusation and all the resentment she has felt and kept hidden for years comes out in a strong invective against the asylum in general, and the lady in charge, Mrs. Lippett, in particular. One of the richest of the trustees, Jervis Pendleton, hears her tirade, and is interested by her display of spirit. Persuaded by Miss Pritchard, he agrees to send her to college. She does not know who her benefactor is, but is supposed to write to him under the name of John Smith. As he goes out of the door of the orphanage, Judy gets one glance at his long shadow reflected against the wall. She impulsively nicknames him "Daddy Long Legs."

At college she rooms with Sallie McBride and Julia Pendleton, the latter Jervis Pendleton's niece. Jervis, coming to the school under the pretext of visiting his niece, watches the progress of his young charge. Jimmy McBride, brother of Sallie, and a Princeton man, also is a frequent caller at the school. Jervis believes Jimmy to be in love with Judy, especially when Jimmy comes to the Lock Willow farm, where Judy spends her summers.

Judy is winning recognition as a clever story teller, and has already had a novel published. The big climax comes when Julia reveals to Jervis her plot of elopement with Jimmy, and Jervis realizing that Judy and Jimmy are not in love, tells Judy of his love for her, and asks her to marry him.

FIRST TEAM FOOTBALL

This year twenty-two first team letters for football were won, perhaps the largest number ever awarded in this school. Realizing that ten members of his squad would be gone in the 1930 season, Coach Senneff gave all his reserve material an opportunity to show what they could do. In practically every game some subs were sent in, and during the Rock Island game the whole squad took part. In an ordinary season this year's substitutes would have had no trouble in placing as regulars. This fact makes the prospect for next year unusually bright, for twelve letter-men will be back.

SECOND TEAM FOOTBALL

Despite the fact that most of the reserve talent were freshmen, Coach Piersel developed many promising men who will bid for varsity positions next fall. Their record of two victories, a tie, and three defeats was not due to lack of fighting spirit for they were always scrapping whether ahead or behind. The opposition they encountered was much too heavy and experienced, but they can be proud of themselves in victory or defeat, for the character and determination of these boys were the kind that every athlete needs who fights for the glory of the old Maroon and White.

SENNEFF

BEAN

HOLMGREN

A highly keyed eleven that could hold like a stone wall and charge like a thundering herd characterized the 1929 Maroon football team. Led by a dauntless captain who was the keystone of their driving attack and whose versatility earned him a place on the all-state honor team, they amassed a total of 158 points to their opponents' 33. The line from end to end we term the champion of all for it was the linesmen who staved off defeat and brought on victory. Yet their effectiveness is often overlooked, while the ball carrier is recognized.

overlooked, while the ball carrier is recognized.

Eight victories, a tie, and one defeat is a record of which to be proud and one which placed Moline among the first teams

To Coach Senneff can be attributed a large measure of the team's success. His genius and football psychology have always been an asset in developing a championship eleven. The fighting spirit of Coach Bean was contagious in building the line and his services cannot be overlooked when we glance at the size of the elevens we opposed in the wonderful schedule arranged by Manager Holmgren.

arranged by Manager Holmgren.

Jack Cutbirth is a worthy successor to Captain Tom Straw, and there is little doubt that his personality, character, and individuality will be influential in carrying on the fighting tradition of the Maroon and White.

JACK CUTBIRTH Captain-elect

CASEY STRAW Captain

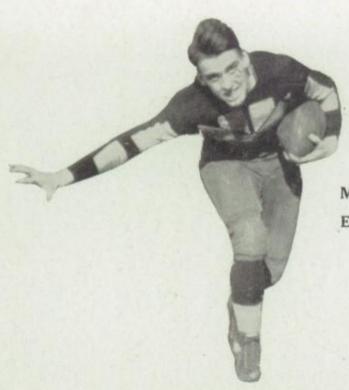

EAST MOLINE

Coach Senneff and his fighting warriors inaugurated the 1929 football season with a decisive victory over the Orange and Black. The Maroons, led by Captain Casey Straw, outplayed their much heavier opponents, displaying a fast running attack and marvelous defense.

Held scoreless the first half, the determined Maroons charged through the foe early in the third period for the first touchdown. After rushing the ball down the field, Jimmy Rosborough carried it over from the eight yard line.

The remainder of the game Moline had things their own way. The line functioned properly, interference was perfect, and blocking extraordinary. Captain Straw raced through the entire East Moline eleven for the second touchdown and early in the last period stiff-armed his way over the chalk marks for the third touchdown. His brilliant performance justified his leadership of eleven young stalwarts fighting for the glory of Moline High.

ORLA PEDERSEN Guard

JIM ROSBOROUGH Fullback

CLINTON

Moline celebrated their second victory of the season with a win from the strong Clinton High eleven. The Iowans had a wonderful line and every ounce of driving power the Maroons possessed was necessary to pierce it.

The first quarter was fought on even terms, both teams resorting to much punting. In the second period Esterdahl put the locals in a scoring position when he returned a punt twenty yards. Captain Straw then brought the ball to within seven yards of the goal on a wide end run. The alert Iowans stopped Esterdahl on a trick play, but were mowed down on the next play when Esty circled left end for a touchdown. Schild place-kicked the extra point.

The Maroons scored a second touchdown in the third quarter when Schild intercepted a pass. After a succession of line plunges by Straw and Esty, Casey finally carried it over. Esty's kick fell short. Coach Senneff substituted in Rockne fashion the remainder of the game, for the regulars had exhausted the Clintonians. Kenny Esterdahl's open field running was a marvelous exhibition of ball carrying and the little fellow deserves much praise for his tact and courage.

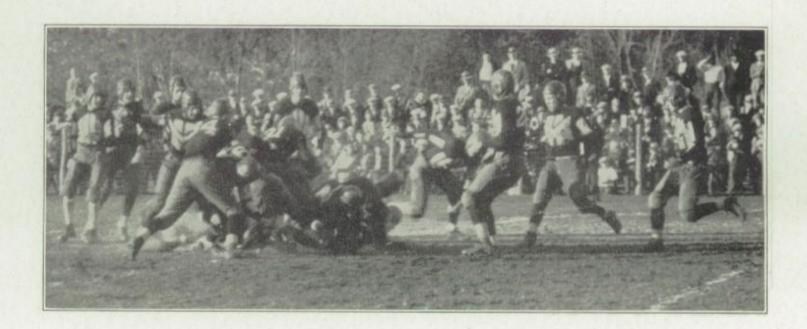

BILL SLATER Center

MARTIN ZAMIS Tackle

WAUKEGAN

Waukegan turned the trick that no other eleven was able to do—nor could they themselves do it again—when they defeated Moline. With a desperate last minute passing attack they conquered an eleven that was the victor in everything but the score. The Maroons displayed the caliber of football they played in previous games, but could not check the Northerners' rally. Waukegan must be given credit for fighting so gamely with defeat staring them in the face.

The game was a bitter struggle throughout and probably would have ended in a scoreless tie had not Rogenski broken through to block a punt in the second quarter, paving the way for a Maroon touchdown. In the final period, with five minutes to go, Waukegan shot a pass to a lanky end for a touchdown. On a fake kick formation they passed for the extra point.

The individual performance of Felix Rogenski and Peacock Zamis in the line and Captain Straw in the backfield were outstanding. These men demonstrated the "do or die" spirit so characteristic of the old Maroon and White,

GALESBURG

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." This determined spirit prevailed throughout the game with Galesburg. The Maroons carried the ball to the last chalk mark several times, but lost it on fumbles or were checked by the Silver and Gold. It was not until the final peroid that the first score came. Galesburg was forced to punt on their two yard line and Bill Slater broke through to block the kick, giving Moline a safety. Then Casey Straw, who had been previously checked by the opponents finally managed to break loose and ran around right end for a touchdown by cutting, twisting, and side-stepping his way 22 yards. His run was nothing short of spectacular and furnished the biggest thrill of the game. He added the extra point with a beautiful place kick that soared high above the crossbar.

The playing of Miller Brown at right end was outstanding. The little man from Silvis broke up interference and smeared plays with the smartness and ability of a collegian.

Kewanee found themselves decidedly outclassed by the Maroon and White in their annual gridiron battle and were decisively beaten 27-6. The Moline backfield ran wild against the opposition, tearing off long gains repeatedly through the line and around the end. Captain Casey Straw scored three touchdowns and kicked three extra points for individual honors in the one-sided victory. The hard-hitting "Gob" was too much for the Boilermakers and they were forced to give ground to his ferocious charging.

After the Maroons had carried the ball straight down the field for 70 yards, Jim Rosborough crashed over for the touch-down and Straw kicked the extra point. Kewanee's Negro flash, Connors, raced 50 yards for the visitors' only score. The most thrilling ball-carrying came in the third period when Captain Casey Straw intercepted a forward pass and dashed 53 yards for a touchdown.

In the final period two blocked punts in scoring territory gave the locals two more touchdowns, Straw carrying them both over on terrific line smashes. Orla Pedersen played a "bang-up" game in the line. He threw the visitors for many a loss and climaxed his performance with a beautifully blocked punt.

DAVENPORT

It was with a sense of pride and superiority that the Maroons left the battle field "M" Men's Day, for they had conquered a mighty eleven, in addition to showing the men who had once fought for the same Alma Mater a victory such as they had not seen in years. The game was one of the hardest-fought battles of the year and furnished enough thrills to last the "M" Men until another season rolls around.

There was a keenly antagonistic feeling between the two elevens and it was only the Maroons' hard fighting that brought them out on top. They were called on time and again to check the enemy's advance, and they responded to the call. The Iowans presented a clever passing attack that kept the locals on their toes most of the afternoon.

The ex-warriors who looked on from the "M" Men's seats, marveled at the plunging ability of Captain Straw, for it was his hammer-like drives that smashed the Iowan's line and scored a touchdown. The big blonde Dane, Pedersen, paved the way for the touchdown when he recovered Wellington's fumbled punt. Casey took it over and his reliable toe added the extra point. The Davenporters scored on a pass in the third quarter, but the determined Maroons blocked the kick. From then on they held their ground and the one-point lead became a highly prized victory.

PEORIA

A team that holds its opponents every time in the shadow of its goalpost is a team of which any high school should be proud. Central's team looked like giants compared to the Plow Boys, yet they were forced to use the aerial route to score. Moline also made use of the forward pass but carried the ball over the last chalkmark with line smashes for their touchdown.

Peoria scored first in the second quarter after they had recovered a fumble on the thirty-five yard line. Livengood made fifteen yards through center on a trick formation. With a yard to go, Livengood shot a pass to Buck who had crossed the goal line. Straw spoiled the try for extra point.

Knowing they had nothing to lose and everything to gain Moline started the second half determined to score. The opportunity came when they advanced the ball to midfield and Casey threw an eighteen-yard pass to Cutbirth. Rosborough then passed to Esty who carried the ball to the five yard line. Captain Straw, on two hard line plunges, carried it over. The try for the extra point was wide. The game ended in a tie score which, on the whole, was very satisfactory.

ROCK ISLAND

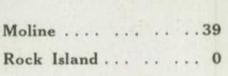

The Maroons reached the pinnacle of their football fame when they crushed Rock Island at the new Public Schools Stadium. The victory, which gave Moline a clear title to the Tri-City championship, proved that Coach Senneff had a wonderful machine, for the score shows they had it comparatively easy in spite of the fact that the Islanders would rather have beaten Moline than any other team in Illinois.

During the first half the plucky Islanders held the locals to one touchdown, but at the beginning of the second half, their defense collapsed and the Plow Boys marched through them for five touchdowns. Captain Straw accounted for two of them, while Esterdahl, Rosborough, Nelson, and Zamis each scored one. There was not a happier person on the field than "The Peacock" when he went through tackle for a touchdown.

Every player on the bench took part in the game and each one performed so well that there was not a Maroon warrior who could be classed above any of his team mates. It was a defeat that the Crimson will never forget and a victory that the Maroon and White will always remember.

BOWEN

"One football in the hands is worth two on the ground," was fittingly exemplified in the game with Bowen. Twice in succession the Maroons carried the ball over the goal line only to drop it on the other side. With all this misfortune, the gridders scored three touchdowns while the opposition registered one.

Bowen kicked off to Moline and without much hesitation the boys carried the ball down to the one yard line, where misfortune number one happened when Esty lost the ball. Bowen punted and again the ball was advanced to the one yard line. Captain Straw carried it over, but again the handle on the ball broke; misfortune number two. As the half neared, the Maroons attempted a pass which Bowen intercepted and turned into a touchdown.

The second half featured a Maroon stampede, Casey Straw scoring the first touchdown after Jim, Jack, and Esty had aided him in bringing it down the field. Rosborough scored the second touchdown after a beautiful thirty yard run. Jimmy shook off three tacklers like nobody's business and scampered alone across the line. A season is not complete until each regular has scored a touchdown and a certain fellow, Cutbirth, had not yet had that privilege. His opportunity came in the last quarter when the line opened a hole for him and old "Tuffy" triumphantly dove over the last marker.

AUSTIN

The snow kept sweeping down upon the gridiron all through the afternoon of the Thanksgiving day game with Austin High of Chicago. It chilled somewhat the enthusiasm of the shivering spectators but eight of the twelve sturdy maroon-clad athletes fought as they had never fought before, knowing that they were playing their last football game together.

The Maroons scored in the first period when they blocked one of Austin's punts on the twenty-one yard line and Captain Straw carried the ball over in two lightning-like drives that found no opposition. The Chicagoans were held almost yardless and were forced to use forward passes, which the Maroons quickly checked. In the third period, Captain Straw galloped 55 yards for the most spectacular thrill of the game. He was stopped a yard from goal and a fumble on the next play ruined the chances for a touchdown. However, before the final gun sounded across the snow-whitened field, Captain Straw had fought his way across the goal line for the last touchdown of the season.

The team had played a championship brand of football to beat by a score of 12-0 one of Chicago's finest prep teams, and the boys had just grounds for the congratulations they exchanged on this fitting climax to a brilliant season.

The Maroons of '29 will always be remembered as one of Coach Senneff's finest elevens, whose spirit, courage, and character were the keys of their success.

FIRST TEAM BASKETBALL

An outstanding defense that often staved off defeat and brought on victory was the backbone of the varsity cagers. Many games that were decided in the last few minutes featured the schedule and brought the Maroons through the season with a wonderful record. The locals were beaten twice by Rock Island, but balanced these defeats by giving Davenport the only setback they experienced in two seasons. Coach Senneff's tactfulness in developing the squad accounted for the regularity with which the team functioned and is largely responsible for their success. His team won the respect of friend and foe for its clean sportmanship and fighting spirit, a deserving reward for his faith in them.

BASKETBALL RESERVES

While the reserve squad is not given much recognition, it is nevertheless essential in preparing the varsity for strenuous games and in developing the following year's basketeers. There was much unusual talent in this year's squad, several of them performing at times with the varsity and making a creditable showing.

The lights conquered their first four opponents but met defeat in the next game and throughout the remainder of the season played somewhat inconsistently, finishing with a record of six victories and five defeats.

But, after all, the reserves who play for the glory of their alma mater without thought of reward, are those who fulfill the dreams of coaches and fandom in succeeding years.

Coach Senneff's varsity five inaugurated the season with a decisive 27-10 victory over LaSalle-Peru. The Maroons although having had only four days' practice were never in danger of being overtaken, and easily sailed through their initial contest.

Moline defeated East Moline 29-14 at the Field House the following evening. The familiarity of the home floor soon brought out the timely click which characterizes Maroon teams and which was too much for the Orange and Black. Vern Swanson's total of eleven field goals and one free throw led the individual scorers in the first two games.

The next game brought the strong Libby High School of Toledo, Ohio, to the Field House. The game was a very close and exciting battle and the Maroons managed to win 14-11, which was a fine victory, considering the opponent. The defense exhibited in this game was the main factor in beating the Ohioans.

Next on the Marcons' menu was the Big Nine Tournament at Galesburg. By defeating Geneseo in the last few minutes of play, Coach Senneff's warriors earned the right to play Canton, the defending champions.

The Canton game proved to be one of the hardest games of the season. Moline outscored the last year's champs from the field but inability to make free throws cost them the game. A free throw by Canton in the last few minutes gave them an 11-10 decision.

However, Moline had a chance to win third place which they stepped right out and did in an exciting contest with Monmouth. The reserves played the entire game which ended with them on the satisfied end of a 20-18 score.

Displaying a fast offense and a tight zone defense the Red and Blue team from Davenport humbled the Maroons 24-17 on New Year's Eve. Incidentally the Iowans found the locals in a bad slump; not one of the Maroons could find the basket and when the ball did get near the hoop it resisted all tendencies to go through.

Showing a reversal of form, the Plowboys defeated Orion 30-15 in their next game. The Moline defense held the invaders scoreless from the field until the third quarter, and played a prominent part in the victory.

The Maroons journeyed to Monmouth for the next game and returned with another victory in the bag. Monmouth was unable to stop the invaders and much less were they able to score. The Plowboys chalked up 29 points while holding their hosts to 8.

Playing a slow, deliberate game and making the majority of their shots count, Galesburg defeated Moline 24-15. The Maroons played their usual defensive game but were pitifully weak on offense.

DICK PEARSON, Co-captain Elect Forward

- East Moline had little success in turning back the Maroons in a return contest and were badly beaten 44-15. Coach Senneff shifted his lineup, permitting the reserves to finish the game the second half. Dick Pearson was the scoring king with four baskets and five free throws.

A clever floor attack and an impenetrable defense defeated Princeton 19-4 at Princeton in the next game. "Stretch" Swanson led the attack with six baskets and a free throw while Straw and Pedersen shone on defense.

The entire varsity squad had a part in defeating Geneseo 39-16 at the Field House the following evening. Merv Horton, clever floor guard, was the only man to play the entire game, it being his last before graduation. Merv played a wonderful game, scoring three baskets and a free throw. His dribbling and passing were a constant menace to the opponents, and Coach Senneff regretted losing him from the squad.

Some basketball games may be hard fought or rough, but they could not be any rougher than the game Moline played with Orion at the latter's gym. The entire game was a succession of personal fouls by both teams, but in between these the Maroons found time to cage a few field goals which aided in the 30-19 victory.

Rock Island humbled Moline 30-19 in their first meeting of the season at the Augie gym. The Islanders played a high caliber of ball and could have easily beaten any team with the percentage of shots they chalked up. The Maroons on the other hand played a ragged game, missing many easy shots and letting the Crimson forwards through for many pot shots.

Staging a desperate last-quarter rally the Maroons nearly nosed out Peoria Central in the greatest uphill battle of the season. Central had a seventeen-point lead at the start of the last quarter, but the Plowboys advanced to within two points with a minute to go. The Peorians then charged through for a basket which gave them the edge in the 35-31 score. Captain Rosborough led the scorers with eight points.

In the next game Moline defeated Macomb Academy at Macomb. The Maroons went on a scoring spree making a total of 35 points to 21 for the opponents. Pearson and Swanson each contributed eight points to the total.

To be the only team to defeat the two-time Iowa state champions is the honor Coach Senneff's Maroons hold as the result of the victory over Davenport in their second contest. The Plowboys, out to revenge the defeat the Iowans gave them New Year's Eve, played a steady, deliberate game which swept the Red and Blue off their feet. To mention an individual star would be unfair to the team, which functioned with the regularity of a perfect machine. This 29-22 victory broke the Iowans' winning streak of twenty-five consecutive games.

Kewanee defeated Moline 25 to 21 the next evening at Kewanee in a slow and ragged game. Taking advantage of the Maroons' weariness, the Boilermakers piled up an early lead which they kept till the finish.

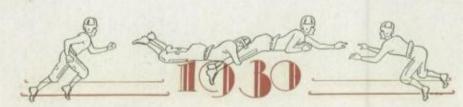

The Maroon and White demonstrated their basketball prowess before the first capacity crowd of the Field House by defeating Monmouth 26-10 for the third time during the season. The fans, many of whom were witnessing their first game, saw Moline play a clean, fast brand of ball and were perfectly satisfied with the night's entertainment. Casey Straw led his mates in the one-sided 26-10 victory by scoring eight points.

KENNY ESTERDAHL, Co-captain Elect Forward

Rock Island managed to nose out the Maroons by one point in their second engagement. The game was a hard-fought contest, neither team holding more than a three-point lead at any time. The Crimson supporters had a victory chalked up shortly before the gun sounded, but Dick Pearson changed their prediction by sinking two beautiful baskets for a last-minute lead, but the Rocks again came from behind and a free throw by Anderson decided the contest.

Galesburg defeated Moline 24-14 in a listless basketball game at the College city. A rally by the Silver and Blue in the third quarter gave them a safe lead which the Moliners could not overcome.

Moline drew Viola for their first opponent in the District tourney and easily tamed the small towners. Scoring almost at will the Plow boys piled up a total of fifty points to eight for Viola. Straw and Swanson were high-point men with eight and six baskets respectively.

If there's a team that is a jinx to Moline, it's Orion. After having beaten them decisively during the season they came to the tourney to uncork a display of one-handed shots near the finish of the game that beat the Maroons 20-18. This unexpected upset by Orion deprived the Maroons of a chance to compete in the sectional, which is the goal toward which every team works

THE 1929 TRACK SEASON

Although the 1929 Moline track season was not up to the standard of some others, it was not the poorest. The Maroons, led by several stellar performers, captured the Quad-city indoor title, the Blackhawk sectional, and placed second in the Big Nine. Our dual meets with Rock Island and Davenport were lost, due not to lack of ability on the part of our men, but rather to the shortage of them.

The first meet, the Quad-City indoor, Moline won with comparatively little effort, scoring 40 points to 24 for their nearest competitor. Marvin Parker, one of the Maroon's best dash men, established two new records in capturing the 440 and 220 yard dashes. Paul Marsell also set a new indoor record in the pole vault topping the bamboo at 10 feet 6 inches.

The next meet, a dual with Rock Island, was one of the best ever held between the two schools. This contest was neck and neck throughout and the last event was to decide the winner. Confident that they would win, the Maroons entered it with a spirit of conquest, but the Islanders were victorious, winning the half-mile relay by one yard. The final score 69 to 65 will testify to the bitter rivalry that existed, and will be a potent reminder to the 1930 thinly clads.

Our dual meet with Davenport was less successful, the Red and Blue winning easily 88 to 52. The Iowans had a well balanced team which placed first in all but four events and which was deserving of the victory. Moline's four firsts were won by Irwin in the half mile, Fawks in the mile, Parker in the 440, and Marsell in the pole vault.

Rock Island won first place in the annual Big Nine meet nosing the Maroons out by six points. Their victory can be credited to Edwards, who smashed two records, one which had existed for 17 years. Moline won two first places, one by Olson in the century and the other by Wood in the javelin. Unusually strong talent from the small schools prevented the Plow boys from placing first in more events.

Following a week of strenuous training the Maroon squad won first place in the Blackhawk sectional, a feat which earned for them the title of champions. In this meet Moline won two first places, six seconds (tieing for another), three thirds, and three fourths for a total of 52 points. Olson again copped the 100 from a fast field, while Swanson captured 5 points in the high jump. This victory entitled the entire squad to compete in the State meet. However, Swanson was the only athlete to reach the finals and unfavorable weather conditions kept him from scoring.

The Quad-City meet proved beyond any doubt that Davenport had a crack team. They scored 113 points, Moline was second with 62, and Rock Island third with 45. Vernon Swanson again demonstrated his aerial ability by leaping 5 feet 9¾ inches, setting a new Quad-City mark. Olson finished first in the 220, Marsell took the pole vault, Ohline led the half milers to the tape, and Wood tossed the javelin the farthest.

The individual experience each athlete gained during the season will be an asset to Coach Senneff in building the 1930 team, which promises to be a strong contender for the state championship.

1929 GOLF TEAM

Last year the athletic association sponsored a golf team for the first time in the history of the school. Dolph Lain was appointed coach and under his supervision the team went through a very successful season losing only two of six contests. The Maroons split even with Muscatine, winning 6 to 0 at Short Hills and losing 5 to 3 at Muscatine.

Moline defeated Rock Island 6 to 0 in the next dual meet played in Moline.

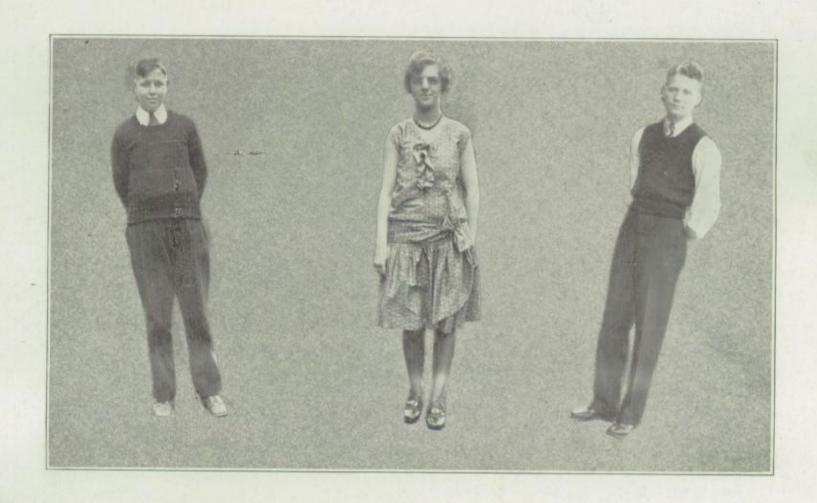

The Maroons journeyed to Clinton for the next contest and lost to the Clintonites by the close score of 6 to 4.

Moline avenged the defeat in a return game played in Moline. The Maroons hit their stride and won easily 9 to 1.

The final game of the season was played at Rock Island where the Maroons overwhelmed the Islanders by a score of 11 to 0.

SEASON TICKET PLAN

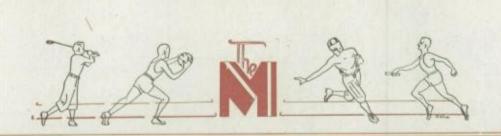

This year the Athletic Association resolved to do everything in its power to get Moliners "basketball-minded." Besides the usual advertising, the Association sponsored two special campaigns. The first of these was a season ticket selling contest.

This year, for the first time in history, adult season tickets were sold. Students were urged to sell as many as possible. As an added inducement every student who sold three tickets received his own free of charge. Prizes were given to the three selling the most.

The first prize of a gold medal went to Marybelle Thomson, who sold a total of 15 tickets. The silver medal for second place went to Clark McGaughey who disposed of 14 tickets, and the bronze third-place medal was clinched by Louis Nordine who managed to entice the necessary $3.00 out of 13 prospects.

In addition to this the Association sponsored a "ten-cent night." It was hoped that in this way many people who had never attended a basketball game would come and get the "bug." The Field House was packed that night to see Moline win a decisive victory over Monmouth. Their enthusiasm indicated that efforts to increase basketball interest and support had been successful. Great credit is due the students who helped to carry through these campaigns.

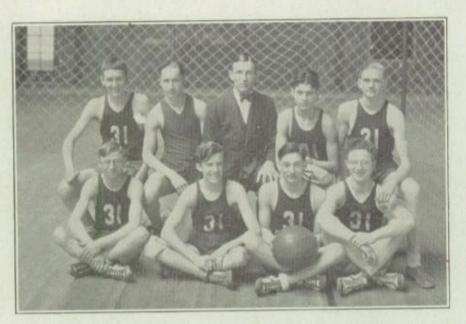

CLASS ATHLETICS

LIGHTWEIGHT TEAMS

1930

The senior lightweights annexed the interclass basketball crown by defeating the '31's in a very exciting overtime battle 28 to 26. The '30's overcame the '31's large lead to tie the game at 26 all when the gun sounded. A basket by Larson in the overtime period decided the championship.

Rear Row—Hjerpe, Czerwinski, Wirken (Coach), Van Brunt, C. Ericson. Front Row—Zaiss, Douglass, Andrews, Dustin.

The Sopohmore team which was eliminated in the semi-finals was a very clever and steady five and might have advanced to the finals had their stature been a little more rangy.

Rear Row—Blake, Munn, Stratton.

The 1931 class entered the finals by defeating the '32's by one point in a very close game. They had a fine team but overconfidence was a great factor which led to their defeat.

Rear Row—E. Miller, Anderson, Brown (Coach), Purdum (Coach), C. Wise, Dennison. Front Row—S. Edlund, Rupiper, C. Kipp.

The Freshmen five were eliminated from the tourney after losing their first two games. The Freshies had not much talent but they fought hard to overcome this handicap.

Rear Row—Hallberg, Jackson. Front Row—A. Munn, Cowley, Luchman.

By virtue of their victories over the Juniors and Seniors the '32's were considered the cream of the crop, but overconfidence got the best of them and they were defeated in the finals. In taking the Juniors 14 to 6, and the Seniors 11 to 9, the Sophies exhibited a clever brand of ball and a well-nigh perfect defense.

Rear Row—Wirken, Steinkraus. Front Row—D, Wilson, Schild, Anderson.

The Freshman team was put out of the tourney in the first two days of competition. They lost to the '31's in the first contest and to the Seniors in the second. They put up a good fight against the Seniors losing only by three points which the upper classmen made in a rally near the finish.

HEAVYWEIGHT TEAMS

The 1930 class proved to have the strongest team when they came through in the finals to beat the '31's by a close score of 21 to 19. The seniors' attack was not perfect but they had the "finish" which brought them out on top.

Rear Row—Wirken (Coach), Irwin, Olofson, Linnberg.

1932

The '31's were eliminated by the seniors in the semi-finals after having won from the Freshmen in their first round and lost to the Sophomores in the second. Lack of good basket eyes was their chief weak point in the '31's attack.

Rear Row—Mulligan, DuCray (Coach), E. B. Anderson.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Seniors

For the second time in their history the 1930 team won the girls' inter-class basketball tournament. Both last year and this year they defeated their opponents by their excellent teamwork. The girls deserve much credit for their record since this year marked the return of girls' rules. It was difficult for them to adjust themselves to the new manner of guarding especially, but the girls came through in spite of the handicap.

Rear Row—Thomson, Clark, Wolff (Coach), Corey, B. Johnson, Duncan. Middle Row—G. Schrempf, Liebendorfer.

Sophomores

As third-place winners this year, the Sophs showed some real basketball. After winning two games, they finally fell before the onslaught of the mighty seniors. They should gives the 31's some tough competition next year for the championship.

Rear Row—Mueller, Luchsinger, Hvitfeldt, Barnett (Coach), Darby, Ohrberg.

Middle Row—Schofer, Allen, McDannell, Kirk.

First Row—Stephenson, Ericson, Krebs, Atkocaitis.

Juniors

With the 30's out of running and by virtue of winning second place for the past two years, the 31's showed more than a fair chance of winning the championship next year. Their captain, Marie Ringquist, proved to be a female Vernie Swanson.

Rear Row—A. Swanson, V. Anderson, Plummer (Coach), M. Turner, Z. Carlson.

Middle Row—Lusty, C. Johnson, Erzinger, Fors.

Freshmen

Though they brought up the rear, the Freshies showed pluck in both their games even with scores piling against them. They are to be commended on their fine teamwork.

M. Anderson, J. Johnson, A. Ringquist, Corey, H. Montgomery, R. Hall, M. Ringquist, Hardin.

GIRLS' VOLLEY BALL

1931

March 11 proved a sorry and disastrous day, indeed, for the Juniors as they lost by only a few points the crown of volley ball champs. Captained by Marie Ringquist, they gave the Sophs a merry chase to the end of game.

1932

Headed by their flashy captain, Lucy Kachevas, the '32's fought their way to the championship of the '31, '32, and '33 volley ball tournament.

This is the first time volley ball has been recognized as an official sport at Moline High School.

Rear Row—I. Swanson, Engnell, H. Lundberg, Black, I. Morris, E. Frazier, Carlson.
Front Row—Fors, Kachevas, M. Duncan.

Rear Row—Roberts, Allen, Malmstedt, Kroeger, B. Ross, Atkocaitis.
Front Row—Darby, C. Van Meter, Krebs.

1933

Eliminated in the first two games of the tournament, the Freshies suffered defeat in volley ball as well as in basketball. The '33's are a fighting lot, however, and will prove to be no mean contenders next year.

FEATURES

SENIOR PARTY

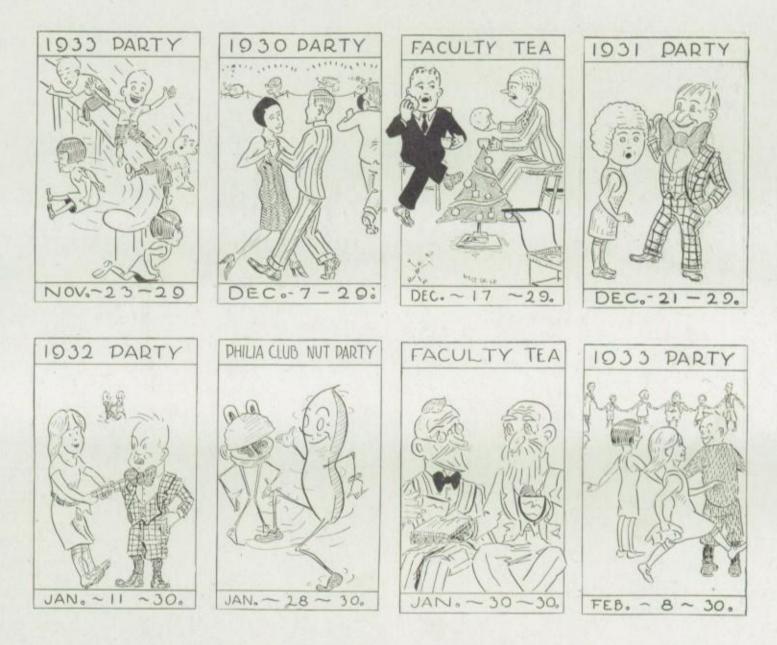

Local dentists were given a lucky "break" soon after the rollicking senior party on December 7. The cause for the "break"—taffy apples which were given out to clamoring upper classmen who for the moment apparently forgot their dignified roles by parading in rompers and overalls and what have you. Disregarding all consideration of enameled fangs, hungry lads and lassies fondly sunk their teeth into juicy apples and sticky caramel. The results were more than several loose teeth and swallowed fillings. From the second that Goldilocks broke the little bear's chair and the three bears, very unfortunately (?) garbed in pony, raccoon, and mink, threw themselves upon the helpless little maiden, the spirit of childhood, which the stately seniors had ostensibly discarded for a more dignified one, returned to them at a single note of the fairy horn. Mary Ellen Love was voted the most childishly garbed and acting of the fair sex, while Stephen Darling and Harold Granholm vied for first honors in the masculine contest. Contrary to former custom, only one senior party was held this year. Its novelty, however, made up for parties which were not held.

JUNIOR PARTIES

While witches rode through skies on broomsticks and Jack-O'-Lanterns scowled from advantageous perches, the Juniors fearlessly made merry at one of the spookiest parties of the year on October 25. In the early part of the evening the social committee presented a most clever playlet appropriate for the occasion while feminine shrieks and masculine "guffaws" pervaded the already bewitched auditorium. Bicycle sirens as well as dangling skeletons played their parts on the stage and furnished a proper atmosphere for fearless lads who bellowed, "Who's afraid?" while teeth chattered and knees quaked. Timid lassies held bravely on to male arms which were conveniently near. Once again in the lighted gymnasium, wandering minds returned to consciousness long enough to waltz to Stan Nelson's Mississippi Revelers and to partake of taffy apples.

As is usually the case, the Juniors were permitted to give only two other parties this year, as the annual prom made up for a fourth. The parties held on November 22 and December 21, were unusually happy affairs, attended by many of the '31 class.

SOPHOMORE PARTIES

Big hearts and little hearts, real hearts and paper ones merged into one huge palpitating mass at the Sophomore valentine party on February 8. "Moonshine," a short play presented by two of the male members of the class, served as a stimulant for the successful evening. From the auditorium the entire group adjourned to the gym where timid Sophs donned boldness and discarded bashfulness long enough to invite marooned maidens for a twirl. Real, honest-to-goodness refreshments consisting of brick ice cream (not Eskimo pies), and heart-shaped cookies were served. Generous Freshmen, who had a party the evening before, were kind enough to leave attractive decorations carried out in valentine colors to the grateful '32's. (The '32's, by the way, also had the privilege of cleaning up the decorations.) Twinkling toes toddled to music furnished by the Mississippi Revelers.

Three other parties were enjoyed by the Sophomores this year on November 8, March 22, and May 3.

FRESHMEN PARTIES

Stumbling or dancing—all was the same to excited Freshies as more than two hundred of that species crowded the floor of the gym on Friday night, February 7. While diminutive couples gazed fondly into each others' eyes, frantic "M" photographers struggled in vain to obtain a "still" picture. This occasion was especially important in that it was the one time of the year when '33's intermingled socially with '34's. To the simmering rhythm of Stan's Mississippi Revelers syncopating steppers (on others' feet) raced madly across the slippery floor. One of the biggest attractions of the evening was a performance by Miss Betty Munn who did several acrobatic dances much to the delight of the hilarious yearlings. A one-act play was also given by members of the class. Delicious refreshments to delight childish appetites were served shortly before 10:30 when the lights went out and, as usual, the children were called for by their parents.

More fun was probably exhibited at the Freshmen parties held on October 18th, November 23rd, and May 9th, than at any of the other social events of the school year.

LITERARY HOPS

High School students, teachers, and toddling eighth graders combined to form a milling mass of dancers 'round the floor of the gym. While hearts throbbed and shoes shuffled to the crooning melodies of the Mississippi Night Hawks' orchestra, cries of "Eskimo pies!" were flung over the heads of four hundred jubilant merrymakers. The occasion—the last literary hop of the school year, which was held on February 12. Never before, it seemed, had a more peppy, a more fun-loving crowd, attended a school dance. For almost three hours, from 3:15 to 6:00, the dancers kept it up, stopping only to catch a hurried breath and then to go on once more.

The first dance, held on October 22, was likewise a merry affair, although it drew only half the crowd of the second.

Several years ago it was decided to hold the literary hops in the evening instead of in the afternoon, as had been the custom, but this year the new plan was abandoned for the old, and so once again matinees reign supreme in high-school-land.

PHILIA CLUB NUT PARTY

Perhaps one of the most novel parties of the year was that staged by the Philia club of the Girl Reserves, on January 28. It was a "Nut Party." Not only was it nutty in name, it was nutty in presentation, in games, and in refreshments as well. As each girl arrived she was presented with a novel headgear upon which was inscribed the name of some nut. After prancing like young colts in a grand march, the girls were treated to nutty refreshments. Following this, games of gobble relay, jungle din, peanut push, and nutty zoo were played. A prize was given to the group performing the best. Ruth Parmelee, general chairman of the party, asisted by Peggy Ball, Martha Hasselquist, Kathryn Coburn, and Ruth Sklovsky, presented, "The Lighthouse Keeper," a farce in pantomime. When a "Gathering of the Nuts" was made, real refreshments, instead of nutty ones, were served. Several other parties and receptions were held by the Philia club earlier in the year.

FACULTY TEAS

Cider. Doughnuts. Apples. Mr. Lain's room. The faculty. At 3:15. November 12. Such is the scene that greeted a person at one of the most delightful faculty teas of the year. Mary's incessant whispering and Jimmy's inattentiveness were no longer troubling patient pedagogues as they cast all school thoughts away for a most interesting social hour. While the Misses Cockrell, Elder, Jeffers, Kerns, and Plummer served them, schoolma'ams and schoolmasters nibbled Hallowe'en refreshments. This tea was the third of a series of faculty teas held throughout the year. The teas which were held once a month, were in charge of different teachers each time. Here's the secret—sh—at times even our most distinguished male instructors donned aprons and actually served delicious dainties.

These interesting little pastimes received their inauguration last year and proved so successful that it was decided to hold them this year, too, and next year as well. Here's hoping everyone has as delightful times next year at the teas! (Underneath it all we have the sneaking suspicion that they talk about how terribly we act in class. Deny it though they may, we stick to our story.)

SOCIETY

Rainbows and pots of gold shone down on the beaming faces of more than two hundred Juniors and Seniors who waltzed to the strains of Trave O'Hearn's orchestra at the prom held on Saturday, May 24th.

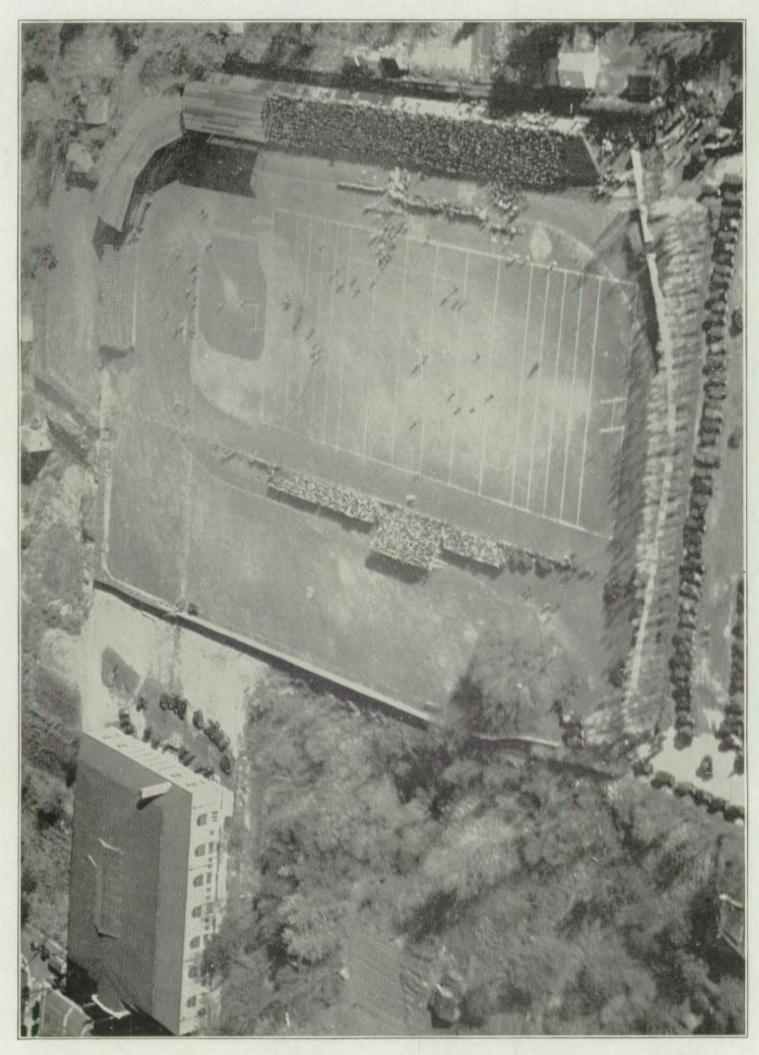

The Juniors fairly outdid themselves in decorating the gym. The whole was carried out as one big rainbow. Even the orchestra was seated in a large many-hued arc with a huge gold sun coming up from behind.

Delicious refreshments were served in the cafeteria. The tables, too, were decorated with miniature rainbows and nut cups in the shape of pots of gold.

Games of bunco, as well as other entertainment, were enjoyed throughout the evening until the stroke of midnight.

Looking Down on "M" Men's Day

Miss Swanson: "What are the five senses?"

Brilliance: "Nickels."

Casey: "I think Maxine would make an ideal wife. Every time I go to her home I find her darning her father's socks."

Miller: "That caught me, too-until I noticed it was always the same sock."

The schoolmaster wrote on the back of the boy's monthly report, "A good worker, but talks too much."

Under this the father wrote, "You should meet his mother."

"Officer, I left my car here a few minutes ago and now it's gone," cried Phyllis Phelps.

"It must have been stolen, then."

"Oh, no, it couldn't be that. It was insured against theft."

"Do you believe a rabbit's foot ever brought you good luck?"

"You bet I do. My wife felt in one of my pockets last night and thought it was a mouse."

WANTED

Wanted: A dog by a little boy with pointed ears.

Wanted: A furnished room by a lady about sixteen feet square.

Wanted: A piano by a lady with mahogany legs.

Miss Toyne: "I told you yesterday, I'd give you one day to hand in your theme."

Kennie Gibson: "Yeh, but I thought I could pick any day."

Mr. Senneff: "What did you hunt mostly while on your camping trip?"

Mr. Bean: "The way back to camp."

A hospital is a place where people that are run down wind up.

Grocer: "Then you don't want any cranberries "

Mary Ellen: "No, I've changed my mind. I see your cat is asleep in the cranberries."

Grocer: "Oh, that'll be all right. I don't mind waking the cat.'

Mrs. Green: "And he is a fellow who is fresh from college, isn't he?"

Eleanor: "Oh, no; but he is just as fresh as if he were."

John K.: "Where do you get your auto accessories?"

John Lawson: "Oh, I just honk my horn and smile, and they climb into my car."

Mr. Kasel: "Which is farther away, Africa or the moon?"

Marg. Ahlene: "Africa."

Mr. Kasel: "Africa? Why, what makes you think that?"

M. A.: "Cause you can see the moon, and you can't see Africa.'

Marion Brown (buying fur coat): "Can I wear this fur coat out in the rain without hurting it?"

Saleslady: "Girlie, have you ever seen a skunk carry an umbrella?"

Angry Motorist: "Some of you pedestrians walk along as if you owned the streets."

Irate Pedestrian: "Yes, and some of you motorists drive around as if you owned the car."

> My space is gone, My jokes are too. So I'll just sign off, And say, "Toodle-oo!"

The Mechanical Guardian of Health

Nature has well provided the fresh stimulating air that nourishes mind and body.

It has remained for science, however, to bring this outdoor air indoors; clean it; warm it to a comfortable temperature; and distribute it uniformly throughout a school classroom.

This is the duty of the Univent—man's mastery over nature. Regardless of wind, cold or storm, the Univent provides a refreshing, health building, June-like atmosphere that is safeguarding the health and even the lives of school children everywhere.

Because of its simplicity—freedom of drafts or distracting noises, and the positive ventilating results attained, the Univent has become the accepted standard of good ventilation in America's finest schools.

Our beautifully illustrated and interesting book, "Univent Ventilation," will be gladly furnished school and business executives upon request.

ADVICE TO DAMSELS

Never let a fool kiss you! Never let a kiss fool you!

Did you ever hear of the Scotchman who built a new home and left the roof off on one of the rooms so that he could use it for a shower room?

OH! OH!

"Yes, I know that they torture the freshmen's souls at the fraternities."

"Say, lady, I was just initiated and believe me, it wasn't my soul that was hurt."

THE HEARTLESS WRETCH!

Ruth Sklovsky: "Isn't he wonderful? Why, he can actually make me feel hot or cold, happy or sad at his slightest will."

Betty Alsterlund: "That's nothing. Our janitor can do that."

POOR IVANHOE!

Teacher: "Fray? What are you talking about?"

Paul: "This book says that Ivanhoe was wounded in the fray."

"Here Come the Folks"

TIME and again that afternoon in 1838, the young blacksmith had dropped his tools and walked expectantly from his shop down to where the trail wound eastward across the prairie to the horizon.

It was the day when his family was due to arrive from Vermont; the wife and children whom he had not seen for a year; among them the infant son born a few months after John Deere had left Vermont to seek fortune in the West.

Since ten o'clock in the morning, wagons had been arriving from the East. Some stopped; some passed on toward the Mississippi; others branched off on trails leading Northwest and Southwest; none had carried those for whom the young blacksmith so eagerly looked.

He was ready for his family—ready to give them a future greater than any of which they had dreamed. With his own hands he had built a comfortable home. Far and wide, among farmers and mill men, he had established a high reputation as a blacksmith. But that which drew his dreams ahead was the steel plow which he had invented.

He knew he was in the midst of immense soil resources to which his steel plow was the key.

A small train of ox-drawn wagons toiled slowly into the town and stopped in front of the general store.

From the lead wagon a woman, carefully holding a little bundle, climbed down.

"Here, John, take your son," she said, as she returned the joyful greeting of the tall man who had hurried to meet her. "I've carried him in my arms all the way from Vermont."

All the way from Vermont! Across country by stage coach to Albany, New York; by canal boat to Buffalo; by lake boat up around the Michigan peninsula and down to Chicago; by ox-wagon, camping gypsy-style along the pioneer trail, westward from Chicago to the new home—a wearisome, dangerous journey of weeks and weeks.

That was the pioneer spirit—the spirit that led men and women from comfortable homes out into the wilderness to combat hardships unfamiliar to the present generation—the spirit which conquered the West—the spirit which the development of John Deere's pioneer farm equipment enterprise helped greatly to reward.

MOLINE HIGH SCHOOL TROPHIES

In working out the idea of sports in the Annual this year, we have made use of some of our Moline High School trophies as representative of the winning spirit of our teams. The trophies are something we see every day; they stand in the trophy case, a silent reminder of the deeds of those who are now in school and those who have graduated. And yet, they are all too soon forgotten. So we have given you throughout the book pictures of these prizes to refresh your memory in years to come.

And just to show us that they were going to keep up this spirit of "bringing home the bacon" the track boys have carried off three more trophies since this book was planned. First they captured third place in the Bradley Tech meet; then, to keep up the good work, they came home from the Big Nine contest with the first-place shield; and to climax their season they clinched the first prize in the District meet, a beautiful statuette.

We think it was very nice of the track team to co-operate so well with us in our trophy idea and we wish to thank them most heartily for providing us with a fitting tailpiece to our book.
